1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) and (2) under the conditions (3) and (4). It is shown that the system has a solution if and only if the conditions (5) and (6) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

2. In the second part of the paper, the problem of the uniqueness of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a unique solution if and only if the conditions (7) and (8) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

3. In the third part of the paper, the problem of the stability of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a stable solution if and only if the conditions (9) and (10) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

4. In the fourth part of the paper, the problem of the asymptotic stability of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has an asymptotically stable solution if and only if the conditions (11) and (12) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

5. In the fifth part of the paper, the problem of the boundedness of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a bounded solution if and only if the conditions (13) and (14) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

6. In the sixth part of the paper, the problem of the periodicity of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a periodic solution if and only if the conditions (15) and (16) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

7. In the seventh part of the paper, the problem of the ergodicity of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has an ergodic solution if and only if the conditions (17) and (18) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

8. In the eighth part of the paper, the problem of the mixing of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a mixing solution if and only if the conditions (19) and (20) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

9. In the ninth part of the paper, the problem of the entropy of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a solution with finite entropy if and only if the conditions (21) and (22) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

10. In the tenth part of the paper, the problem of the information of the solution of the system (1) and (2) is considered. It is shown that the system has a solution with finite information if and only if the conditions (23) and (24) are satisfied. The proof of this theorem is given in the next section.

Feb.	By amount of cash deposited in the People's Bank, as per balance brought forward to new account	2688 25
------	---	---------

It will be seen by the above statement, there is in the Treasury, a balance on hand of $ 2688 25, a less sum than last year of $824 75, and this is owing to the expenses of Schools and the Fire Department over and above the appropriations made by the Town; also the expense of a nightly watch as follows: For Schools over the appropriation $631 25; for Fire Department, over the appropriation, $1116 89; and for nightly watch, $218 17; these several additional expenses were not taken into consideration at the time the estimate was made. Had not these occurred there would have been in the Treasury at this time the sum of $4654 56—an increase of over $1000 00 from last year.—It will be seen in the account rendered by the secretary of the school committee, that a considerable portion of the money has been expended for the repairs and enlargement of school houses, such as extra expense at the Dudley School of new seats, &c. amounting to $322 90; and for finishing and furnishing the room in the Washington School, $1115 87; for the purchase of a piece of land and enlarging School House No. 13, $1005 77—making the sum of $2444 55, which we understand will not be wanted another year. In the estimate which was made for schools, by the school committee, it was supposed at the time that seats would answer, which would come much cheaper, but they having been used in a neighboring town were found imperfect, and had to be removed, thereby the plan was changed, and this was a considerable item of expense, and was one cause why the amount exceeded the appropriation.

There is at present in the several schools about the number of scholars as follows :

In the Washington School	330
Dudley School	300
Several Primary Schools which are 9, 60 each	540	1170
Eliot School, Jamaica Plain	68
Westerly School	70
Primary Schools 6, 30 each	180	318
Making in all		1488

In addition to these is the Grammar School, to which the Town pays towards its support $500 00 per annum ; where young men are fitted for College, and where also they can obtain a knowledge of the higher branches of an English education. The number of scholars in this school is about 40.

We have thought proper to state thus much in relation to schools at this time, to show that the scholars are numerous, and that no small sum is wanted to defray the expenses of the department.

Owing to the many fires and the great amount of property which has been destroyed the past year, the expenses of the fire department have exceeded the appropriation, but great credit is due to the Engineers and members of the department for the manner in which they have extinguished the many fires, and thereby saved an immense amount of property. During the year there has been fourteen fires and six alarms of fire. The whole amount of property destroyed is nearly or quite thirty thousand dollars, while the amount insured is only about eighteen thousand dollars. It is thought more property has been destroyed the past year than for ten or twelve years previous. There has been 556 feet of leading hose purchased to replace about the same number of feet destroyed by fire. The number of fires alarmed the citizens to that degree that we thought proper to establish a nightly watch agreeable to the Act which authorizes the selectmen so to do, under the direction of a constable, which has been attended with good effect at an expense of two dollars per night to the town.

A statement of the money appropriated for highways will be seen in the Auditor's report, and the manner in which it was expended appears in the several accounts which are there exhibited, together with the amount of money expended upon each of the several streets at the east section of the town. Stone chips, seem to be the best material for making roads, and if continued to be used, and some attention is given to this subject, we think in a few years the streets may be much improved.

The expenses for the support of the poor has been somewhat more this year than formerly. We have had more sickness than usual, and about the same number of deaths. A year ago there was but forty inmates in the house, now there is sixty, making one third more than last year. A thorough change has been made in the house in regard to the bedsteads and bedding, as will be seen in the statement of the sundry articles on hand. Many new bedsteads have been purchased, the old ones all having been destroyed; much new clothing also has been made, and we believe the situation of the house is such at the present time as will give, under all circumstances, the most entire satisfaction.

There is on hand about one hundred loads of fine stone chips, a considerable quantity of oakum, and one yoke of oxen, more than last year. Some small bills remain uncollected.

The expenses of the support of the poor at the Alms House the last year, was about two thousand dollars in addition to the proceeds of the farm, or about two hundred dollars more than was appropriated.

We wish that those who feel interested for the unfortunate poor would visit the house oftener, and then they could judge for themselves the manner upon which it is conducted.

We are again able to state that we have settled in full with the Collector for all taxes assessed the past year, amounting to thirty-three thousand five hundred eighty-eight dollars and forty-eight cents, and from this sum we have made abatements of only five hundred sixteen dollars and seventy-three cents, leaving over thirty-three thousand dollars collected; and this is sufficient evidence of the prompt manner in which all assessments have been met, and the faithful discharge of the duties of the Collector.

We can see no reason why the taxes need be any higher than last year, if the appropriations are made judiciously with regard to economy and the best interests of the town.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
